ABOUT

The Northern Lights Hunt by Hi North takes participants into the quiet winter landscapes just outside Mosjøen, where minimal light pollution offers excellent conditions for viewing the Aurora Borealis. This guided activity suits most visitors, and depending on the weather, the route is done either on foot or with snowshoes for easier access to good viewing spots. Skilled guides use their knowledge of forecasts, weather, and local terrain to choose the most promising location each evening.

During the outing, participants are offered hot drinks and snacks, and winter clothing is available for rent. At the viewing site, the group gathers around a small fire as the guide shares insights about the region, local traditions, and the Northern Lights. While sightings are never guaranteed, the clear skies, peaceful surroundings, and chance of encountering wildlife make the experience rewarding in any case.

The tour begins in Mosjøen and includes transport to a remote area with optimal darkness. Suitable for ages four and up, the excursion offers an accessible way to explore the Arctic night while enjoying nature, culture, and the possibility of witnessing one of the world's most spectacular natural phenomena.
