ABOUT

Art and nature are closely connected – and this tour allows you to experience both.

We begin at the Adde Zetterquist Art Gallery, where you will learn about the artists Per Adde and Kajsa Zetterquist and their passionate fight for nature conservation.

Then, we take you into the "IRREPLACEABLE" exhibition, where you will learn more about the landscapes, wildlife, and cultural history of the national parks. This experience provides you with a deeper understanding of how art can mirror and influence society, and how nature conservation can be an art form in itself.

We conclude around the campfire, where you can reflect on your impressions with a cup of campfire coffee in hand.
