ABOUT

The Træna archipelago is surrounded by the open sea. Træna Rorbuferie is situated on Husøya, the most populated of these islands. Here, amidst magnificent scenic surroundings, you have a golden opportunity to experience the thriving coastal culture of a vibrant island community.

Idyllically situated right at the water's edge are numerous rorbu, the traditional fishermen's cabins. These are extra spacious, each with two bedrooms, a living room, a kitchenette, and a bathroom. This tranquil holiday accommodation will truly make you feel that you have left the stress and pressures of everyday life far behind.

These rorbu cabins are available year-round. Each season on Træna has its unique charm; your experience can range from hefty winter storms to summer eves when the sky glows even at midnight.
